

Students will be provided with a paper plate and plastic straws. They will have access to scissors, tape, and various art supplies. They will use these materials to construct a windmill. They may not use outside materials, and the windmill must be constructed on site. The students' windmill will then be attached to an electric generator and placed in front of a desk fan operating at full power. The windmill that generates the strongest current will be the winner.